GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF A POSTER ABSTRACT

- The abstract should be written in English and submitted as word or pdf file.
- The abstract should provide the background, the methods, the results (if available) and a discussion in a maximum of 250 words.
- No limitation on posters already presented at international conferences (please indicate conference).
- Abstract should be submitted to chantal.rodriquez@unifr.ch, until June, 1st 2023.
- Confirmation of abstract acceptance at the latest June 12th, 2023.
- 3 abstracts will be selected for a 5 minute oral presentation.
- Poster prizes will be given for the best oral presentation and the best poster.

ECTS for LNDS candidates

The participation to local symposia or national conferences usually warrants entries on a “seminar sheet” (12 entries = 1 ECTS) as these events do not provide the possibility to assess students’ learning achievements.

However, the organizers of the CANoP meeting provide students with the possibility to present a poster (if they work in a research field related to the cognitive and affective neuroscience of pain) or submit a post-conference term paper in order to obtain 1 full ECTS.

If you want to go for the full credit option, please do the following:

- Register before June 1, 2023 by writing an email to lns@unil.ch (and indicate whether you want to submit a poster abstract (needs to be sent to chantal.rodriquez@unifr.ch))

- If you do not present a poster you need to prepare a term paper to get 1 ECTS and send it by August 1, 2023 to lns@unil.ch.

--- In your term paper you can either a) critically discuss one of the conference talks in face of other controversial research findings OR b) put one of the conference topics in context with your own research OR c) develop a small project proposal based on a conference topic sketching your ideas on what could be done in future studies. Your term paper should be 1-2 pages long; provide your name, the title of the talk your paper is referring to, as well as bibliographic references for your arguments in case applicable.
